

Interest in JFK assassination      4/1/74

As earlier notes indicate, there was a remarkable increase in unsolicited orders for the Whitewash series beginning about 10/1/73. Approximately 6 months ago. It is not easy to learn that I have the books. There is and has been no advertising. Most book stores will not order single books.

This morning I mailed four books. In today's mail there were prepaid orders for seven, each with estimated postage, plus an inquiry about two others.

Last week's orders included six books from abroad, three from Australia, three from Denmark. The Australian order was for air shipment, the cost of which equalled the selling price of the books.

One of today's orders was from a high school student. Another was from a college student who is doing a thesis.
